

RECOMBINANT COLLAGEN ANTI-WRINKLE REPAIR MASK

As time passes, skin aging is not only manifested in the loss of moisture and the emergence of dryness and fine lines, but also in the loss of elasticity and plumpness. Collagen, the most abundant component in human skin, is an indispensable element for maintaining fullness and suppleness.

As we age, the loss of collagen accelerates, leading to increasingly loose skin, more visible fine lines, and a diminished radiance and elasticity. The recombinant collagen anti-wrinkle repair mask, soft and skin-friendly, is infused with Recombinant Human Type III Collagen, sodium hyaluronate, and trehalose, delivering plumping hydration and fullness to the skin.
